

Kingly Role Play

Work with a partner. Imagine that King Alfred the Great and King Athelstan have come back from the dead! One of you will act in role as King Alfred the Great and one of you will be King Athelstan. You should practice having a conversation where you debate who was the greatest king.

You can use the Anglo Saxon Kings Information Sheet to help you remember the key facts and you could also look in information books or research on the internet to find out more details.

Take turns to speak. You may wish to script out the conversation to help you remember it.

Be ready to present your conversation to the rest of the class.

Kingly Role Play

Work with a partner. Imagine that King Alfred the Great and King Athelstan have come back from the dead! One of you will act in role as King Alfred the Great and one of you will be King Athelstan. You should practice having a conversation where you debate who was the greatest king.

You can use the Anglo Saxon Kings Information Sheet to help you remember the key facts and you could also look in information books or research on the internet to find out more details.

Take turns to speak. You may wish to script out the conversation to help you remember it.

Be ready to present your conversation to the rest of the class.

Kingly Role Play

Work with a partner. Imagine that King Alfred the Great and King Athelstan have come back from the dead! One of you will act in role as King Alfred the Great and one of you will be King Athelstan. You should practice having a conversation where you debate who was the greatest king.

You can use the Anglo Saxon Kings Information Sheet to help you remember the key facts and you could also look in information books or research on the internet to find out more details.

Take turns to speak. You may wish to script out the conversation to help you remember it.

Be ready to present your conversation to the rest of the class.