

THE GUARD DOG

Read what Bouncer has to say about himself. Look at the words he uses. Then answer the questions below.

*My name is Bouncer. I'm in charge around here.
This is my garden. Somebody has to look after it.
Without me, the neighbour's cat would stroll in.
The squirrel would be tucking into the bird food.
All of them would have their eyes on my dinner, and that is not allowed. Oh, no!*

ALL ABOUT ELEPHANTS

Use these facts about elephants to answer the questions below.

The world's biggest land-living animal is the elephant.

There are two types of elephant: the African Elephant and the Indian (or Asian) Elephant.

African Elephant

Elephants eat plants, not meat. This means they are known as herbivores.

Male and female African Elephants have tusks but only the male Asian Elephant has tusks. They use their tusks for digging for water under the ground, scraping bark off trees and occasionally fighting.

Elephants' ears are large and thin. Flapping them helps to keep the elephant cool. They also enable elephants to hear each other's calls up to 5 miles away.

Tusks can be up to 3 metres long and they keep on growing for the whole of the elephant's life, which can be as long as 60-70 years.

The African Elephant is bigger than the Indian or Asian Elephant, with bigger ears. Its skin is grey and more wrinkly than the Indian Elephant's. African Elephants have two finger-like tips at the end of their trunks, whereas the Indian Elephant has one. The Indian Elephant's back is more rounded and humped.

An elephant uses its trunk (which can be 2 metres long) to lift up food, suck up water then pour it into its mouth. An adult needs to drink around 200 litres of water every day. It also uses it like a snorkel, holding its trunk above water when it is swimming.

Indian Elephant

Being so big and powerful, elephants have no real predators, although lions will sometimes pick on weak ones or babies, if they get the chance. The main threat is from ivory poachers.

Female elephants are called cows. They have babies (known as calves) when they are about 12 years old and they are pregnant for 22 months.
