This week's learning

We have had a lovely second whole week being back in school. We have continued with the school book Here We Are by Oliver Jeffers. We have written about what we would like to be in the future, what job we would like to do. The children have thought about why they would like this job and what they may do in this role.

In Maths we have continued with place value. Year 3 have looked at Hundreds, Tens and Ones using dienes apparatus and place value counters. Year 4 have looked at Thousands as well as Hundreds, Tens and Ones and how a number can be represented in different ways i.e.

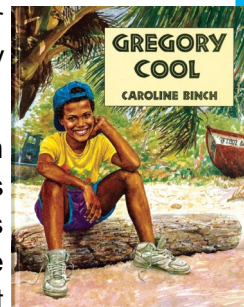

4723 as 4 thousand, 7 hundred, 2 tens and 3 ones and also 3 thousand, 17 hundreds, 2 tens and 3 ones.

In RE we will continued to think about the special gifts that God has given us and what makes them special in the way that we can help others.

This week the children have been outside testing their kites that they made after looking at the painting from The National Gallery NG6587 Joachim Beuckelaer. The Four Elements: Air. 1570. ©, London. After looking at the painting we thought about all the things that fly in the air and drew birds and planes.

Next week's learning

In English we will start with our new book Gregory's Cool by Caroline Binch.

In Maths we will be continuing with Number and Place value. Year 3's will be looking more at Hundreds and Year 4's will be learning more about Thousands. And different ways to show the number.

We will start our Science topic of Solids Liquids and Gases and our Wider Curriculum topic of Ancient Egypt. We will be continuing with lots of outdoor learning as well as Tag Rugby, Rounders and

Harvest Festival

We would like to celebrate Harvest through our Collective Worship on Friday 2nd October. If children would like to bring in either a tin or make a special Harvest box for the Homeless charity in Knightbridge Street.
