

Viking Life Class Quiz

Can you create a chain of quiz cards that your class can use at the end of the lesson to test their knowledge of Viking life? To begin, write your first question on the START card. Then, write the answer on the next card (not the same one!). Under that, write your second question; the answer to that will go on the next card. Carry on until you have completed all the cards! When you have created your chain of questions, cut out the cards and shuffle them ready to play.

Rules for the quiz

The person with the start card reads their question and everyone listens. The person who has the correct answer to the question stands up and shouts out the answer and then they read their question. The chain continues until everyone has had a turn and the end card is read.
